

ADS – Project explanation

English: (long)

ADS 2027

An international forum that will bring together 50 young talents from all over the world in Valencia for 3 days to discuss the future of education under the slogan "what are we not teaching?", through conferences, workshops and debates with experts.

Organised by leading students from the Universitat Politècnica de València under the Generación Espontánea programme, in collaboration with Ideas UPV and the South American Business Forum in Buenos Aires, we are looking for university students with concerns and motivation, from any field of study. And with everything covered! The organisation assumes the accommodation and meals of all selected participants.

Candidate profile:

Students from any discipline (ranging from the arts to science and engineering), aged between 18 and 26. Fluent English (B2–C1) to work in a multicultural environment. A critical mindset, the ability to engage in debate, and an interest in technology, social cohesion and educational equity.

Call for participants:

Registration period: 12 October to 11 November 2026.

Event dates: Valencia, Spain, 4–7 February 2027.

Registration link: <https://agoradevelopmentsummit.org/en/aplicar>

Make your vision have a global impact!

English: (short)

An international forum that will bring together 50 young talents from all over the world in Valencia for 3 days to discuss the future of education under the slogan "what are we not teaching?", through presentations, workshops and debates with experts. The organization assumes the accommodation and meals of all selected participants.

We are looking for university students with critical mindset and motivation, from any field of study, with a fluent level of English (B2-C1) to work in a multicultural environment.

Registration period: from October 12 to November 11, 2026.

Celebration of the event: Valencia, from 4 to 7 February 2027.

Registration link: <https://agoradevelopmentsummit.org/en/aplicar>