NOTICE

The call for papers of articles for particular annual journals is continuous. The annual closes at the end of July each year.

Articles submitted by this date, after formal verification and verification of substantive compliance with the profile of the journal, are subjected to the review procedure. After receiving two positive reviews, they are accepted for publication in the annual according to the year of the article submission.

Articles submitted after the indicated deadline, complying with the formal and substantive requirements, may be subjected to the review procedure and after its fulfillment may be accepted for publication in the next annual.

RULES FOR THE PREPARATION OF ARTICLES

- Authors submitting articles for publication are required to prepare texts and illustrations according to current publishing rules;
- The editors reserve the right to make stylistic and formal corrections in the text following the rules of Polish language and editing;
- Upon acceptance of the article, the author grants the editors an exclusive, royalty-free, unlimited license (Creative Commons BY-NC-ND 4.0.) to use the text in „Studia do dziejów architektury i urbanistyki w Polsce” („Studies on the History of Architecture and Urban Planning in Poland”);
- The authors are not charged for the editorial procedure, preparation for printing, and publication of articles in the annual.

1. GENERAL RULES:

The text of the article must be prepared electronically, in MS Word format: .doc, .docx, or .rtf, according to the formula: SURNAME_NAME_text

The submitted file with the article text must be accompanied by:

- article submission form SURNAME_NAME_article submission form
 - illustrations - inserted into the form in reduced resolution together with captions in Polish and English SURNAME_NAME_illustrations
 - bibliography SURNAME_NAME_bibliography
 - abstract, keywords, captions under illustrations - all components in Polish and English SURNAME_NAME_abstract_keywords_captions under illustrations
 - statement of the author of the article SURNAME_NAME_statement of the author of the article
- and
- illustrations as separate files prepared for printing in high resolution.

All files: text, article submission form, article author's statement, abstract, keywords, illustration captions, bibliography, illustrations (inserted into the form), and illustrations (as separate files at print resolution) should include in the file description the name of the author submitting the article and allow to uniquely identify the contents of the file according to the file description template:

SURNAME_NAME_article submission form.doc

SURNAME_NAME_text.doc

SURNAME_NAME_illustrations.doc

SURNAME_NAME_bibliography.doc

SURAME_NAME_image_abstract_keywords_illustrations.doc

illustrations as separate files prepared for printing in high resolution, signed consecutively:
SURNAME_NAME_il_01.jpg, SURNAME_NAME_il_02.jpg, etc.

The maximum volume of the article including footnotes is 40 thousand (40 000) marks with spaces, the abstract of the article should not exceed 3 thousand (3 000) marks with spaces, and the number of illustrations should be reasonable and adequate to the content presented, while the editor reserves the right to reduce the submitted illustrative material.

The submitted text of the article should be anonymized: the authors' data and identifying information should be removed. When citing their other works or research, the author must not use wording that explicitly identifies the author of the text.

The article should be submitted in digital form via e-mail, to the address of the editor of the annual.

2. STANDARDIZED TEXT NOTATION:

The text of the article should be prepared in Times New Roman CE font:

- title - in capital letters, in 18 pt. font, centered, bold;

* If an archive or archive unit is cited many times in the text, when the first time it is cited, after its name, should be added the abbreviation of the archive's name in round brackets for use in the next footnotes.

Rules for the re-citation:

In footnotes, use Latin references: „op. cit.”; if an author refers to an author or publication cited in a previous footnote, use: „ibidem”; „idem”; „eadem”; „eidem”; „eaedem”.

If the author cites a document from the previous footnote use „ibidem”, e.g.: Ibidem, s. 34. If the same page is cited, „ibidem” alone should be written.

If the author cites a document from one of the previous footnotes, repeat the initial of the cited author's name and surname in full, the beginning of the title ending with the ellipsis, „op. cit.” and the page number, e.g.:

- T. Zarębska, Teoria urbanista włoska..., op. cit. s. 7.

If the author cites another work by the same author in the previous footnote, abbreviations should be used:

- idem - for the male author, eadem - for the female author, eidem – for male authors, and eaedem - for female authors, e.g.:

T. Zarębska, Ulica jako przestrzeń społeczno-kulturowa, „Kwartalnik Historii Kultury Materialnej” 1998, nr 3–4, s. 265.

- another footnote:

Eadem, Teoria urbanistyki włoskiej XV i XVI wieku, Warszawa 1971, s. 7.

4. ILLUSTRATIONS:

In justified cases (e.g. repetitions), the author of the object should be ignored.

The whole article applies the continuous numbering of illustrations, in the case of component illustrations we describe them alphabetically: 1A, 1B, 1C, etc.

In the text cite illustrations according to the rule: (il. 5), (il. 7A, 7B), (il. 1, 3A) - in bold and in parentheses. All illustrations (excluding the title illustration) should be cited in order from 2 to x. All illustrative material, i.e. photos, drawings, maps, and charts are treated as illustrations with continuous numbering in Arabic numerals. The first illustration (illustration from No. 1) will be used as a „pre-title” illustration at the beginning of the article – it can be referred to in the text out of order (anywhere).

- Illustrations should be prepared as separate files with the numbers in the file titles corresponding to the numbers from the descriptions.

- Photos and scans in .tiff or .jpg format should be submitted at the highest possible resolution – minimum 300 dpi.

- All illustrations in reduced resolution should be placed in a separate form, with captions in Polish and English.
